

Scenario

Apple CEO Tim Cook just announced the new Mac Book Pro 2018. Being an Apple fan myself I decided to buy one. However as soon as I opened the packaging I realized the new mac has only two USB-C ports. This provided a huge problem as I already had several USBv2.0 & USBv3.0 and other devices. This meant I had to buy various adapters and dongles that could make these devices functional again.

Some devices include:

1. Logitech mouse USBv2.0
2. Dell keyboard USBv2.0
3. 2TB HDD thunderbolt
4. Samsung 32" monitor
5. SD card reader
6. USB-C thumbdrive

I also need a way to plug in my Ethernet cable for High Speed internet.

The software takes in the device and port as input and inserts the correct dongle to be used.
